MUSKIES WIN IN FIRST COURT GAME 31-27

R. JAPINGA BREAKS THROUGH STRONG DEFENSE FOR LARGE GAINS

The Hope varsity basketball team dropped the first game of the season to the fast Muskegon Y Triangles. The visiting team showed up well in the first half, displaying ability to cage a number of long shots. The less experienced Hope squad came back strong in the last half and gave the crowd a taste of the brand of basketball that they will play when they hit their stride. Hope's team showed lack of experience, only Kliebs, Japinga and Martin having played together before.

Numerous substitutions kept the game fast and interesting, especially at the outset of the last half when Hope staged a comeback and brought the score to 22 to 26. Hope's chances dimmed however when the 'Y' team dropped in a brace of mid-court ringers and clinched the game.

Hope was left trailing at the outset when Haga, a former Muskegon High star, dropped in a long shot and Winters added two. Klevering and Haga followed with two short shots, Haga dribbling down the middle of the floor directly under the basket. Klevering chased Muskegon's onslaught with a mid-court shot. Hope's style of play was a short passing game. The Muskegon team displayed a tight defense and the Hope forwards were finding it hard to break through. Japinga was the first man to turn the trick with a short shot. Russ followed with another goal almost in the same breath. Cook brought Hope's total to six with a long shot from mid-court. Winters and McDonald each add one for Muskegon. Japinga again found the basket for another two pointer, but Fisher evened things with a long heave from side court. Van Lente cashed in on a foul shot as the half closed.

Hope started the second half with a rush when De Young, Prakken, and Martin found the hoop, De Pree adding a foul. Klevering was equal to the occasion and dropped in two goals, Hinken following with two more. The Muskegon team seemed possessed with the ability to cage long shots at will, Hinken, Klevering and Haga starring. Coach Schouten sent in Cook and Van Lente to replace Prakken and De Young. These two combinations are both green but they showed up well in their initial test. Kleis and Van Lente brought Hope's total up to twenty-two. Kleis did not hit his stride, having not as yet fully recovered from his recent illness. Kliebs added one by the foul route and things looked rosy for Hope with five minutes to play but Winters and Hinken put the game on ice, with two goals. Japinga brought his total for the evening to six with two clean long shots. Haga closed the game with a foul shot; the final score being 31-27.

Hope played good basketball and with a bit more seasoning and fewer ineligibilities should produce a winning team. For Hope Japinga was the scoring ace looping in six field goals. Klevering and Hinken scored four apiece for Muskegon.

The reserves dropped their game also to the Muskegon Highlanders. Bekken was the starring light of this game.

LOCAL PASTOR GIVES TALK TO 'Y' MEN

"The Bible Under Fire" was the name given to a forceful address delivered by the Rev. Mr. Masselink, pastor of the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed Church, before the men of the college 'Y' on the evening of Dec. 7th. A large number of men took advantage of the opportunity to hear him.

After commenting on the fine Christian atmosphere on Hope's campus he plunged into his subject. This is an epoch-making age," said Mr. Masselink, "and over 500,000 students are attending universities." He related how men were denying the virgin birth, the death, and the resurrection of Jesus. Going further he said some people refused to believe a personal devil exists and that heaven and hell are no longer considered. "In view of these criticisms, most of them made by men who are on the wrong side of every true progressive program, there will be nothing left of the Bible," said the local pastor. His concluding remarks included the minister's duty, which was to unfold and to explain the contents of the Bible rather than to defend it. To the 'Y' men he left this thought: Study the Bible prayerfully with an open mind and do not neglect your prayer life.

Special music for the evening consisted of a violin duet by Jacob Pelon and Raymond Steketee with Harvey Woltman playing the accompaniment.

KAMPUS KALENDAR

Tuesday—Those who were in chapel last week Tuesday A. M., enjoyed a two-piano duet played by Sarah Lacey and Marjorie Du Mez.

Wednesday—Several students fell on icy sidewalks. Van Vleck initiated its new inmates after the basketball game. This organization often stages Roquefort cheese parties. Roquefort cheese is of a dull white color, except in spots where mortification has set in. Some claim it to be inhabited, but mephitic microbes would flee from it as we flee from scarlet fever. Van Vleck men say they like it, but we think it's because it's imported and expensive. Ten new men were initiated into the inner circle at "Pilgrim's Home."

Thursday—George Killey made a famous slide down the chapel steps. He's now talking quite rationally again. John Lloyd Kollen was in Lowell to give a concert with Martha Barkema.

Friday—We are sorry to announce that Dick Vander Kolk is quite seriously ill with blood poisoning.

THE SEASON'S TIDINGS

The happiest time of the year is again at hand. It is made happy in many ways. Friends give gifts to friends and receive them in return. Increasing numbers give gifts to the needy without expecting anything in return. Mellow students, we are especially gifted in that we can make others happy without any financial outlay. Our presence in the family circle, where we have been greatly missed for some time, is the source of greatest happiness to those we love. It is the wish of the staff that yours may be a season full of happiness, both to yourself and to those friends with whom you will associate in the coming weeks. We know there will be no sadness of farewell when we depart on Friday noon, and we hope there may be no cloud of sadness or sorrow to darken the sunshine of your days, till we meet again when the new year is young and all our New Year's resolutions have been broken.

G. R. CHURCHES TO GIVE HOPE COLLEGE PROGRAM

On Thursday evening, Dec. 16th, a Hope College program will be given in the Central High school auditorium at Grand Rapids. The program is being sponsored by the Bands of various Grand Rapids Reformed churches, co-operating under the direction of Rev. Gerard M. Pernis, for the purpose of raising funds to put the Hope College Band on a sound financial basis. The Men's Glee Club, Girls Glee Club, Hope College Orchestra and Hope College Trumpeters, will all have part in this program, which will also consist of readings and music by the Grand Rapids Church Band.

We are especially appreciative of the fact that outside organizations are taking interest in the Hope College Band, and of the co-operation of the other musical organizations of the College to make this program successful. With a spirit such as this, no organization can fail and we hope to see the Hope College Band definitely organized, with the men all in uniform before the end of the year. Why not?

ASSOCIATION DELEGATES TO ATTEND STUDENT CONFERENCE, MILWAUKEE

The "National Student Conference" to be held at Milwaukee, Dec. 28 to Jan. 1, is near at hand. In fact only a few days remain for registration purposes. May we call your attention to it, more closely, at this time.

The doubt that was prevalent in the minds of some, as to the soundness of the conference, comparing it with the Evanston and similar conferences of last and previous years, has been removed. The committee, after careful investigation and proper information, has decided to register, if possible, our full quota of ten delegates.

Already, a few students are making plans to represent Hope in a true spirit. And we are trusting others will come to the fore in the same vigor of life, not only to go to Milwaukee to receive something worthwhile, but especially with the idea of contributing of the graces of the spirit with which they have been endowed through a rich religious experience, of personal contact with the Divine.

Are you ready to recommend and show that Jesus Christ is from everlasting to everlasting? the solution to every moral and spiritual problem? Then, come on to Milwaukee during the holidays. For further information see any Association leader.

ing elections will be submitted to the Association at the annual meeting.

Section III, Article 1, of the constitution reads as follows:

"The Anchor Association shall meet annually during the first week of the second semester to elect a new Anchor staff which shall immediately replace the old staff."

In order to avoid rushing the new staff into office immediately after election the following amendment to this article has been proposed: "The Anchor Association shall meet annually during the first week of January to elect a new Anchor staff which shall replace the old staff with the beginning of the second semester."

The annual meeting of the Association will be held this year during the first week after the holiday season.

RUSS JAPINGA WILL LEAD HOPE FOOTBALL SQUAD

IS ELECTED CAPTAIN AT SOCIAL GATHERING OF FOOT- BALL MEN

At a stag held Thursday evening by the football men Russell Japinga was elected captain of Hope's football squad during the season of 1927. This choice of the leather pushers is a very happy one, as the general opinion is that Russ will be well able to pilot his team through the heavy schedule arranged for next year. Russ has played consistent football for Hope the past three years and has developed into a tower of strength in the backfield. The rangy fullback is known and feared by all opponents for the powerful punts he is able to get off in most any circumstance. During the past season he has distinguished himself by outpunting every one of his opponents by wide margins.

The social feature of the evening was furnished by several speakers. Professor Lampen enlarged on the phase of greater co-operation between the faculty and the athletic department. It has been a long-felt need that there should be a greater spirit of working together between these two forces, and Mr. Lampen gave assurances that this would be brought about in the future.

George Damson, alumnus of '26, gave a review of the coach's work and suggested that this get-together be made an annual affair, to be sponsored by various organizations in turn, and so increase the spirit of mutual interest between athletics and other phases of college life.

Coach Schouten gave a brief review and summary of the football season. He stated that on the face of it it seemed like a poor season for Hope, but upon analysis of the various games much material for encouragement was found. In regard to total of yardage gained, as well as in several other particulars of the game, it was found that Hope had showed up better than all her opponents, excepting Albion, and with that powerful team we rank as close second.

Tonight the football men will hold a banquet at the Holland Exchange Club, at which time fifteen new men will receive the coveted prize for a year's playing, in the form of a large letter H.

The men will keep in mind that next year's schedule will be a hard one. Three men of the Varsity have played their last football for Hope, and these holes will have to be filled by the men who are now here, since with our entrance into the M. I. A. A. and adoption of the freshmen ruling no first year men will be allowed to participate in intercollegiate contests.

Egbert Fell, the retiring captain, presided at the meeting.

NEWS AND HISTORY

The recent experience of one of the instructors in the history department prompts us to reprint an editorial of the New York Times under the above caption. On the day before the recent elections the professor requested of his class to write, during the class hour, a brief review of the political situation of our country. Forty per cent of the class did not even attempt to begin such a review, for they knew nothing to write about, and two members of the class told the professor afterwards that they had not known that an election was to be held the following day.

The Times editorial follows:

"The colleges whose students took part in the Current Events Contest of last year, under the sponsorship of The New York Times, made so favorable a report on the close study of history in the making, through the systematic reading of newspapers, that eight institutions have been added to the original list. That includes the undergraduate departments of nine universities and the United States Military and Naval Academies. If like success attends the extension of this experiment it should lead to a still wider adoption of the plan. While this enterprise was begun by The Times, it was with a view to emphasizing the value of present-day news for the student of the past. Though examinations in this contest have been held in only a few institutions this was due to the desire to have practical proof of the plan before giving it general application.

"This contest, as Professor Munro of Harvard has pointed out is of benefit not only to the students of institutions but also to the college world as a whole, since it furnishes an inter-collegiate competition in the field of the intellect. Except for debates, the team preparation for which is generally so thoroughly planned under coaching as to give individual debaters little freedom, there is almost no inter-collegiate contest except in athletics. Moreover, as Professor Munro further suggested, as different methods of examination are employed, there is a new opportunity for comparing them and so, possibly, of making a real contribution 'to the general improvement of our whole educational system.'

"One of Thackeray's characters is made to ask, 'Is there anything in the paper, sir?' And this was the answer:

"Anything in the paper! All the world is in the paper. Why, Madam if you will but read what is written in The (London) Times of this very day, it is enough for a year's history and ten times as much for meditation."

"It is upon the press that the historian has more and more to depend in reconstructing the past. The advertisements recall the social and economic conditions of other days. The conclusions of Miss Lucy M. Salmon's recent study entitled 'The Newspaper And The Historian' is that the periodical press still remains 'the most important single source the historian has at his command for the reconstruction of the normal life of the past three centuries.' If that be true, why should not the newspaper be of like service in relating the past to the life of today? It is thus that 'the thoughts of men are widened with the process of the suns.' It is thus that news and history become as one."

THE FORUM

Within the last week there has again occurred that most despicable thing which has been an annual event for the last three years, namely—the stacking of an instructor's room—a stunt pulled off not by a few Hope College students, but by a few cowardly cads, who are for the time being attending this institution. It is hoped that they may not remain long, the sooner they get 'kicked out' by the authorities, who no doubt will take up the matter, the happier the rest of us will be.

Can you imagine anything which so clearly reveals the character of an out and out coward, which so surely marks the cad, as a person who under the shelter of darkness and solitude does his dirty work, as was done last Thursday night? It is useless to try to appeal to such a creature's manhood. He has no manhood. There is no use in appealing to his sense of gentlemanliness and courtesy. These attributes, too, are lacking in his makeup. And one cannot as a last resort call upon his honesty and his ideal of what is fine, honorable and splendid. He has no moral stamina; he has no honor; he has no sense of right. One does not expect it of such a creature, for he is in no sense a man. He is nothing more nor less than a coward.

Is there anything heroic in an under-handed trick like this pulled off in the dark of night? Is there any cleverness in this act, which even an idiot can do, but which, thank Providence, no real man will do? Is there anything exemplary in taking revenge, if such is desired, in such a dastardly way, instead of coming out into the open? Not much! If these fellows are not satisfied with conditions, let them try to remedy the situation in a manly, above-board manner, or let them get out! This type of creature never does the former. The sooner he does the latter the better.

Man-power

Four millions of the best man-power of Europe perished in the Napoleonic conquests. Military conquest is non-creative, while industry is always creative.

In the last ten years one American manufacturer—the General Electric Company—has created machines having a man-power forty times as great as that of all the lives lost in the Napoleonic wars.

In the years to come, when the college men and women of today are at the helm of industry and of the home, it will be realized more and more that human energy is too valuable to be wasted where electricity can do the work better at lower cost.

The laboratories and shops of industry are the sources of many of the enduring attainments of our times. In the General Electric organization is an army of 75,000 persons, co-operating to make electricity do more and better work for humanity.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-18.
